

Troubadour 21

Writers and Artists in the 21st Century

A literary and artistic haven for poets, writers and artists in the 21st century.

We are creating a place for people to promote their work, to inform our readers when and where they will be sharing their work, whether an art show, photography show or musical performance. If possible, we will be there to write reviews and articles on your shows.

Troubadour 21 is a place for us to share our innermost creations, thoughts, to bring back the prolific spirit of medieval and Renaissance literary times to the 21st century.
